

WASHINGTON REALTORS® AWARDS NOMINEE
CITIZEN OF THE YEAR AWARD

KAYLEE GALLOWAY

Kaylee is a thoughtful public servant and collaborative leader in Whatcom County who engages directly with housing, land use, and climate issues that shape the local real estate landscape. She has drawn on her legislative experience at the federal and state levels to understand market conditions, identify barriers to housing, and work alongside REALTORS® on practical solutions. As a County Councilmember and President, Kaylee frequently invites REALTOR® input on initiatives such as comprehensive planning, land use policy, and local disclosure efforts, treating the association as a key partner in her work. Her willingness to do the hard work, seek expertise, and champion balanced, housing-forward policy makes her an exceptional nominee for the Citizen of the Year Award.
